“BY THE COMMUNITY ... FOR THE COMMUNITY”

“Highlights from CROI (the major annual HIV conference)”

Steve Johnson MD and Tom Campbell MD

The 24rd CROI (Conference on Retroviruses and Opportunistic Infections) is February 13-16 in Seattle ... and every spring for the last 24 years, our local doctors from the University of Colorado have presented the highlights of this conference to the community.

Attended by 4200 doctors, clinicians, and researchers from all over the world, this conference is considered to be the “granddaddy” of all the HIV medical conferences held each year.

HIV treatment is constantly evolving due to the large amount of research and new data from studies. Doctors Johnson and Campbell will present material from this year’s conference, focusing on information of interest to our community.

Remember ... knowledge is power!
